DISASTER PREPAREDNESS UPDATE

Join us for a day of education and half day of fun, discussion and brainstorming ending with an exciting creative tabletop exercise.

Emergency Preparedness continues to remain in the spotlight. As after action reports highlight the strengths and weaknesses of the 2018 disasters, the focus is on collaborative relationships, limited resources, vulnerable populations and of course, the opioid crisis. This session will provide the latest information from the federal government, new preparation for Ebola and the expectations for the home care and hospice industry's role in large scale events.

Day One

The first day will provide you with updates in the area of today's preparedness focus. Governmental focus has changed based on world -wide events as well as recent events in the United States. Discussion will include topics such as active shooter, Ebola, identifying vulnerable populations, updating your disaster plans, and crisis standards of care.

In addition, there will be an audience discussion on recent survey findings and clarification of regulatory issues.

Day 2

The next day we have a tabletop exercise that will meet the CMS requirements that you can take back to your agency and enhance your plan. It will focus on communication, essential functions and crisis standards of care during an event. Better yet, bring your team and your plan and update your plan during the drill.
